MEADOWBROOK STRONG

By ROBERT T. PAUL.

While many thousand Philadelphians were enjoying more or less peaceful slumbers this morning after their tiring efforts to assist in ringing in the year, out and the New Year, in more than a hundred thinly clad ambitious athletes were limbering up in the vicinity of sixth and Lombard streets awaiting the signal to start the six-mile marathon run of the N. Schenkelberg & Co. Athletic Association.

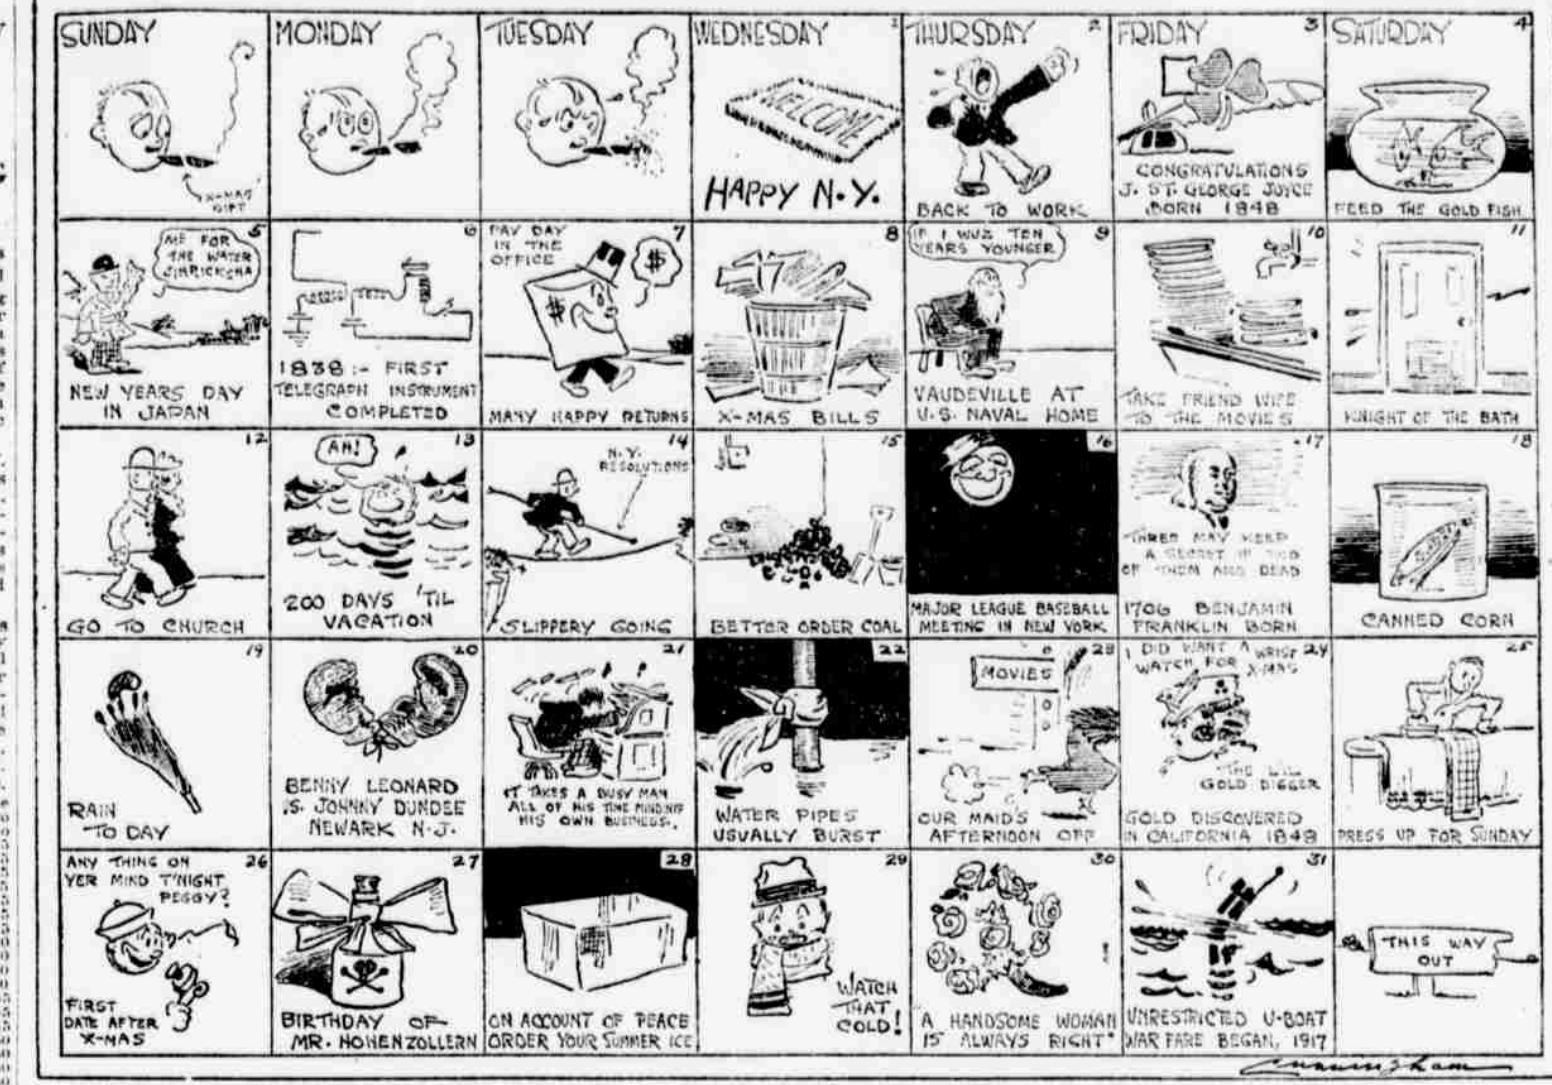

Oscar Balliett, of the Allentown Y. M. C. A., the limit handicap man, was due to get started promptly at 10 a.m., but, due to the late arrival of the athletes from New York, Oscar was postponed to postpone for a short time his dash for victory. The Gotham runners left New York at 8 a.m. and arrived shortly after 10 a.m.

The Meadowbrook Club, which has been winning team trophy after trophy in cross-country runs for two years, had its full strength out. It had to, for among the 109 entrants were the leading harriers of the East. New England teams were on hand, six of whom were from New York. The Philadelphians A. C., Moraineide A. C., and Mohawk A. C. each came confident of besting the locals.

to Win Many Contests

When John McGrave assembles his Giants for the 1919 season, he will call into the fold two young pitchers who have been outstanding in the past season, and from their country's service by the time the opening of the training season rolls around. Both grandsons of McGrave, with whom the players, but McGrave regards them as excellent prospects.

They are Jim Jones, now in the Army, and Eddie Winters, who is in the army. Jones led the Texas League pitchers in 1917 and was drafted by the Giants, but was released, as he was in the middle of the winter. Winters was at Martin last spring and was regarded by McGrave as one of the most promising pitching recruits picked up by the Giants since Christy Mathewson was a callow youth.

JUSTICE THOMPSON LOSES

Beaten by Walker in Pinchurk Golf Tourney

Pinchurk, N. C., Jan. 1.—The second match round of the mid-winter tournament was played on the new 18-hole course at Pinchurk, Saturday, and brought things down in the sentimental state. Arthur L. Walker, Jr., the medalist and intercollegiate champion, won his match against Justice M. Thompson, of Philadelphia, as was expected, but he experienced considerable difficulty in the undercard. Thompson went out in his first two strokes better than Walker, and was 1 up at the turn, but coming home the young medallist played par golf on all but one hole and finally won by 3 up and 1 down, with a medal score of 42-37-79.

Elberts, of North Park, defeated J. Chapman of Chevy Chase, by 3 and 1, and will meet Walker in the semis.

W. E. Truesdell, the senior champion, and Frank Keating, the junior champion, both of the University of Vermont, came through in the lower bracket. Truesdell disposed of Lieutenant C. Van Cleef, of Richmond Country Club, by 5 up and 3 to play, and finished out the round with a 79.

Frankel, of Princeton, who played the course in 45 yesterday, won an 87 today, but was his match against T. Keating, of Spring Lake, by 4 and 3.

The final round of the day was staged in the fourth sixteen between Clark Wilcox, Weagoe, and C. W. Harriman, of Wyckoff, Wyckoff finally winning at the twentieth hole.

FINE SUPPORTING CARDS

By JAMES S. CAROLAN

LIGHTWEIGHTS, heavyweights and flyweights will do the feature work at the three local clubs this afternoon. Benny Leonard, world's lightweight king, is the most important boxing actor on any of the New Year's cards, but the other topnotchers possess sufficient fighting qualities to entertain with the best.

Leonard is meeting Paul Doyle for the first time, and while in no danger of taking a lacing, should find Doyle capable of putting up a regular battle. Murray appears at the Olympia.

John Smith and Bill Kramer, windup duty at the National. Originally Smith was down to engage Butch O'Hagen, but the latter was unable to fulfill the bill. Kramer was called from Milwaukee, and this worthy son of the Middle West is able to make any of the present-day middleweights battle.

Larry Williams, Battling Murray, and Johnny Burns, are the main attractions at the National, with the entertainment the remainder of the National Commission has been set for next Monday at Cincinnati.

CALL OFF BOSTON BOUTS

Death of McGovern Casts Gloom Over Ring Activities

Boston, Mass., Jan. 1.—The death of Young Terry McGovern as the result of the blow on his head as he fell under the knockout of Frankie (Young) Britt at the Central Athletic Club Monday night, has cast a decided gloom over the boxing situation here. The future is clouded with misgivings.

The first visible effect was the announcement of cancellation of the Commercial Athletic Club of the hill schedules for today. At the same time the matchmaker announced the cancellation of the club's regular Friday night exhibition, and it is not known whether the club will resume its activities next week.

It is doubtful whether the Central Athletic Club, the night's affair occurred, will hold its bouts on New Year's Day, and announcement was anxiously awaited from this club and from the Armory Athletic Association.

There are nearly forty-five players on the reserve list of the Yankees. They will leave for the South on Friday.

Want Boxing in Oregon

Proposition Before Legislature to Permit Ten-Round Bouts

Portland, Ore., Jan. 1.—A number of new boxing bills which have for their purpose the legalizing of ten-round boxing bouts in the State of Oregon are being introduced in the legislature.

These bills, it is understood, will tend to govern the boxing game along lines as now conducted under the auspices of the Portland Boxing Commission, which likely will be studied out at the coming session of the Legislature.

When the California Legislature meets in Sacramento, Edward Lewis, Assemblyman from Marysville, will present a new boxing bill, which probably will be adopted.

Other states, including Oregon, have a law which permits boxing bouts of ten rounds.

It is believed that the Oregon bill will be introduced in the Oregon legislature.

The work of this special session will be divided into two terms:

First Term—January 27-May 10, 1919
Second Term—May 12-August 30, 1919

For these courses the entrance requirement of a degree from an approved college or scientific school will be modified so as to admit also men who were entitled to senior rank in such institutions at the beginning of the academic year 1918-19 and who have six months engaged in military or civilian war work. In all other respects the standards of admission and work will be unchanged.

The normal offering of courses will be given in the following study-groups: Accounting, Business Law, Marketing, Industrial Management, Business Statistics, Business Policy, Foreign Trade, Banking, Lumbering, Office Organization.

Detailed information will be furnished on request. Address: Graduate School of Business Administration, Harvard University, 17 University Hall, Cambridge, Mass.
